From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Mon, 2/16/2015 8:29:44 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Terror suspect was knownto intelligence, Rolls-Royc...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Monday February 16 2015

UK HOMEPAGE

Terror suspect was known to intelligence

Man shot dead following attacks on free speech event and synagogue in the Danish capital

Rolls-Royce accused in Petrobras scandal

British group allegedly paid bribes via an agent in exchange for $100m contract

Report warns of $1bn cyber attack

Banks and other financial institutions targeted worldwide for theft of up to $1bn

VIDEO

Time to consider corruption?

Corruption pays, London Business School data indicates, at least if you invested in countries with poor transparency since 2000. Lex's Oliver Ralph and Robert Armstrong ask if it is time to consider corruption as an asset class worth the risk.

US HOMEPAGE

Japan exits from recession, but slowly

Quarterly growth falls short of forecasts as economy struggles to gain momentum

Isis fighters claim to have killed Copts in Libya

Video purports to show murders of 21 captives in city of Sirte

Negative rates to rattle financial system

Impact to hit pension funds and insurance groups

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Chinese tourists rename British attractions

‘Strongman Skirt Party’ and ‘Big White Streaker’ among names picked in online poll by tourist agency

BNP made ethical mistakes, says chairman

Fine for US sanctions violations was ‘wake-up call’ prompting reorganisation of control functions

Nutella creator Ferrero dies at 89

Publicity-shy confectioner built fortune using hazelnuts instead of cocoa

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Lord Browne to head Huawei’s UK board

Latest attempt by Chinese technology group to dispel corporate governance concerns

Police link dead terror suspect to gangs

Man, 22, is said to have mounted deadly Copenhagen attacks

US publishes draft rules for drone use

Restrictions may limit the ambitions of companies such as Amazon

WORLD NEWS

Shaky ceasefire tested in Ukraine

Kiev officials say separatists continuing to attack Debaltseve

Gap yawns between Greece and creditors

Athens faces day of reckoning as eurozone finance ministers meet in Brussels

Oil and gas discoveries at 20-year low

2014 may have been worst year since 1952, increasing need for existing fields' extensions

Ebola battle not over, warn health experts

Virus will remain threat to west Africa until completely eradicated, say medical experts

Nigeria military hits back at Boko Haram

COMPANIES NEWS

Lemierre warns pressures may wreck reform

Jean Lemierre says market-making activities in corporate banking are absolutely crucial

Shire has 'nothing to hide' on tax, says chief

Flemming Ornskov defends use of Luxembourg structures orchestrated by PwC

Asset managers' pay set to beat bankers

An average $263,000 plays $288,000 now but managers will overtake in 2016 on current trends

BP woes make it vulnerable to major move

UK group suffers as shares languish and oil price tumbles

Aldermore and Shawbrook race to list first

Competition to list first intensifies as banks vie for institutional investors' cash

MARKETS

Corporate bonds: Emerging bubble

Signs of distress are appearing in companies' debt

Oil groups issue cheaper bonds than 2014

Analysts say investors believe biggest companies have the strength to weather price collapse

COMMENT

London's role in the Republican race

The UK capital-as-prop highlights the dearth of thinking on both sides of the Atlantic

Civilian sacrifice likelier than a coup

Solutions for Venezuela are unpopular and Maduro can be useful, says Daniel Lansberg-Rodriguez

Athens must stand firm on failed policies

One of the riskiest options would be a formal exit from the currency union

Inept response to Ukip could deal a blow

Cameron's strategists have repeated the miscalculation Blairites made, writes Matthew Goodwin

Oil markets need reform to reflect reality

Prices are driven by financial speculation, which outweighs supply and demand, writes Igor Sechin

MANAGEMENT

Flemming Ornskov, Shire: life post-AbbVie

Pharma boss says he is not bitter about withdrawal of $55bn bid

It is best to fire a wrong hire quickly

If a mismatch is fundamental, there is no such thing as too quick

The perils of to-do lists

Writing down chores can become an excuse to put them off

Feedback

Lucy Kellaway's happy:grumpy ratio

Manage email | Forward this email

Feedback | Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2015

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.
This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.
Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.